

WELCOME TO ARBITX

At Arbitx, based in the financial sector, we specialize in smart Arbitrage Trading solutions for consistent market opportunities.

The background of the right side of the slide features a close-up of several US dollar bills, including a $100 bill and a $20 bill. Overlaid on this is a blue candlestick chart, a common financial tool for tracking price movements. The word "ARBITRAGE" is written in large, white, outlined capital letters across the bottom of this section.

OUR VISION

To become a trusted global financial brand by delivering innovative and transparent Arbitrage Trading solutions that create long-term value.

OUR MISSION

Our mission is to provide reliable Arbitrage Trading strategies through advanced technology, strong risk management, and ethical practices, helping clients achieve sustainable financial growth.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN ARBITRAGE TRADING & NORMAL TRADING

Arbitrage Trading

- Uses price difference opportunities across markets
- Focuses on low-risk, structured trading strategies
- Works on pre-defined systems and execution logic
- Reduces emotional decision-making
- Designed for consistent performance
- Time-efficient with optimized trade execution

Normal Trading

- Based on manual buy and sell decisions
- Depends heavily on market timing and predictions
- Higher exposure to market volatility
- Requires continuous monitoring
- Influenced by human emotions (fear & greed)
- Results may vary based on trader experience

Feature	Arbitrage Trading	Normal Trading
Decision Process	System-driven	Trader-driven
Risk Approach	Controlled & structured	Market-dependent
Time Requirement	Low	High
Emotional Impact	Minimal	High
